specializing in drilling rigs and offshore/onshore operations. Throughout my career, I have worked with leading drilling companies, gaining strong exposure to electrical systems, power distribution, maintenance activities, and safety-critical environments. My experience includes working on various rigs, supporting continuous operations, troubleshooting complex electrical faults, and ensuring compliance with international safety and operational standards. I have a solid background in maintenance and reliability practices, supported by my Certified Maintenance & Reliability Professional (CMRP) credential. This certification has strengthened my understanding of asset reliability, preventive and predictive maintenance strategies, root cause analysis, and performance optimization. I am highly focused on minimizing downtime, improving equipment availability, and enhancing operational efficiency in challenging oil and gas environments. In addition to my technical expertise, I am actively developing my leadership and project management capabilities. I am currently pursuing the Project Management Professional (PMP) certification to enhance my ability to manage projects, coordinate multidisciplinary teams, and deliver maintenance and improvement initiatives effectively and safely. I am experienced in working under pressure, adapting to rotating schedules, and collaborating with multicultural teams. Safety is a top priority in my work, especially when operating in hazardous and offshore areas. I am highly motivated to continue developing my skills, contribute to operational excellence, and take on greater responsibilities within electrical engineering, maintenance, reliability, or audit-focused roles in the oil and gas sector.
