Monitored and interpreted real-time drilling parameters including ROP, gas readings, pit levels, and pump rates to ensure safe and efficient drilling operations. Performed lithological analysis of drill cuttings using microscopy, identifying formations and hydrocarbon shows. Conducted and reported gas analysis (Total Gas, Chromatograph readings, C1–C5) to evaluate hydrocarbon presence. Maintained accurate mud logs, strip logs, and daily drilling reports in accordance with client and company standards. Detected and reported abnormal pressure indicators (kicks, losses) to assist in well control and prevent hazards. Coordinated closely with drilling crew, MWD/LWD engineers, and wellsite geologists for data integration and decision-making. Ensured proper sample collection, washing, drying, labeling, and storage for geological records. Calibrated and maintained mudlogging equipment (gas detectors, sensors, chromatograph) for reliable data acquisition. Followed HSE policies and procedures strictly, ensuring a safe working environment at all times. Assisted in formation evaluation and provided geological insights to optimize drilling performance.
