As a Drilling Engineer, I am responsible for planning, designing, and executing drilling operations for oil and gas wells in a safe, efficient, and cost-effective manner. This includes developing well trajectories, selecting appropriate casing designs, and ensuring that all drilling parameters are optimized to achieve operational objectives. I oversee the selection and performance of drilling fluids to maintain wellbore stability, control formation pressures, and prevent potential hazards such as kicks or blowouts. I continuously monitor drilling activities, analyze key performance indicators such as rate of penetration (ROP), torque, and pressure, and make real-time decisions to improve efficiency and reduce non-productive time (NPT). A key part of my role involves identifying and resolving technical challenges, including stuck pipe, lost circulation, and other drilling-related issues. I ensure strict adherence to health, safety, and environmental (HSE) standards to maintain a safe working environment for all personnel. I collaborate closely with geologists, reservoir engineers, and rig teams to ensure alignment across all phases of the drilling process. Additionally, I prepare detailed daily reports and conduct post-well evaluations to capture lessons learned and support continuous improvement in future operations.
